President's Message

I can't believe it's August already! We dream of the warm weather for months and once it's here it goes by in a blink of an eye. Besides great sunny weather, August also brings one of our signature membership events, Ferragosto, a family event celebrating the most important day of summer in Italy. We use this celebration to honor our members with a full day of food, music and, as is customary for Ferragosto in Italy, a glorious bonfire at dusk. Please plan on attending. The event is free for members. Friends and neighbors are welcome for only $10. Trust me, you won't want to miss it.

Also this month we are holding our annual Cigar Night in the Roman Garden to benefit the IACC Foundation. The evening is filled with an epicurean feast, open bar and, of course, fine cigars. Seating for this event goes quick so call the membership office today to make your reservation.

More information on both of these great events can be found in this month's issue of our Siamo Qui.

I am happy to announce our renovation of the second floor "Presidents Room" has been completed. The final product is impressive. The room is now equipped with video conferencing capabilities, better lighting and very comfortable chairs. Next time you are at the club make sure you take a look.

Our Friday Nights in the Pavilion are in full swing with lots of great weekly food specials. Luigi DeNitto's pizzas are the best you'll find outside of Naples, Italy. Stop by and get a slice or even a whole pie. You won't be disappointed. We start serving at 5pm every Friday until September 15th.

Finally, I would like to thank you for your support of our great Italian American Club. Without members like you, we would not be the premier social club in the Capital Region.

I look forward to seeing you all on Friday Nights at the Pavilion or at one of our many activities here at the IACC.

The Italian 'ANCESTORS' website

In a previous review of the Italian Antenati (Ancestors) site <http://www.antenati.san.beniculturali.it/>

I noted there are four main tabs, the first being Il Portale (The Portal), which explains that most of the records are available through an agreement with the LDS church; and the second, Il Territorio e i fonti (The Territory and Sources), which presents a map of the regions of Italy with links to the explanation of the site's sources; and websites or email addresses where more source information is available. Most of the links, and the presentation, are in the Italian language, but there are options to see some in English.

Continuing with the main tabs:

3. Sfoglia i Registri (Browse the Registers). After selecting this tab, click on the link "ITALIA" (in very small type) at the upper left. This will display several items titled 'Archivio di Stato di _____' (Archive of the Records of Civil Status of _____). This is a list of the Italian provinces for which records are on line. Larger provinces have their record split into two or three regions. As of this writing, fifty provinces or regions are represented on the Antenati site.

In the following list, one asterisk* indicates a province or region which was originally in the Kingdom of Sicily. Two asterisks indicate provinces on insular Sicily. Records for the latter are generally more uniform and complete than those for the former city-states and duchies of the North. The areas included as of this writing: Agrigento; Arezzo; Asolo Piceno; Asti; Bari*; Benevento*; Bergamo; Brescia; Caltanissetta; Campobasso*; Catanzaro*; Chieti*; Como; Cremona; Cuneo; Enna; Firenze; Forli; Genova; Grosseto; Imperia; Imperia, sezione di Ventimiglia; Imperia, sezione San Remo; L'Aquila*; La Spezia; Lucca; Macerata; Mantova; Messina; Modena; Napoli*; Padova; Pesaro; Pesaro, sezione di Fano; Pesaro, sezione di Urbino; Pescara*; Potenza*; Prato; Ragusa; Calabria*; Rieti; Roma; Savona; Taranto; Torino; Trapani; Treviso; Udine; Venezia; and Viterbo.

Clicking on any of the Archivio links will display the categories of records available for that particular place, for a specific period of history: Stato Civile Napoleonico (1806 through 1815, the period of Napoleon's dominance in Europe); Stato civile della Restaurazione (1816 through 1860 – 1865, with city states in the north and the Kingdom of Sicily or Two Sicilies in the south); and Stato Civile Italiano (1860 – 1865 through 1910 and beyond, the period after the nation of Italy came into existence). Click on the province or region of interest and a set of links for various comune or towns in the region will appear. Select your town, and you'll see the time period for which records are available. For some towns, all three of these periods are presented, for others only two, and for still others only one. Select the period you want, then the type of record (birth, marriage, etc.), and begin browsing the images of original records. In a future column, I'll describe techniques for browsing, understanding and downloading the images of your ancestors' original records

4. Trova i nomi (Find names). Here you can search for person's names using the given name and / or surname. The search can be further refined by indicating the town, and by chronological limits.

There are search boxes headed Nome (Given name); Cognome (Surname); Tipologia di Atto – Nascite, Matrimoni, Morte (Type of Record – Birth, Marriage, Death); Comune/Localita (Town/Locality); Anno Inizio (Starting Year); and Anno Fine (Ending Year). Enter one or more item in the boxes and click the button marked 'Cerca' (Search). A list will appear with a transcription of information for names that match your search. To see the actual image of an original record, click on the link 'Apri' (open). You may get lucky and find a relative's name directly by this search, or you may have to browse the registers listed above, page by page. The number of names so far indexed is far lower than the number of images available on the Portal, because indexing is a slow and laborious task that requires a major commitment of time and human resources.

Of course, any records you do find will be images of original documents, sometimes printed forms with details filled in by hand, sometimes completely handwritten, all in the official language of the time, Italian.

Women's League

Hi Ladies,

Back by popular demand, we are having a second Water Aerobics class this month. Our favorite instructor, Michele Sano, promises to step up and challenge us! So if you missed last month's class, here's your chance to join in the fun! Plan to arrive around 6:00 pm and our Water Aerobics class will begin promptly at 6:15 pm for about a ½ hour. After class we will have pizza and wings. We'll also have refreshments. If you can bring a dessert, side dish or salad to share, please let Sharon know when you make your reservation. Of course, our poolside fun is all weather permitting. In the event of rain, we will meet in the pavilion and have our meeting there. If we are in the pavilion, we could start on our "book worm" project. I am asking the women members who crochet to begin making the "book worm" and the rest of us will be packaging the book worms with new children's books.

Water Aerobics at the I.A.C.C.

This project, as well as our wrapping of new stuffed animals will be done at our November meeting too. To complete these projects, we would need donations of stuffed animals and children's books. I am really confident we will have a great response to these projects as it does fit in with our mission of helping our community.

We had a great response to the handbag/scarves/jewelry donations for the St. Paul's fundraiser. I dropped off several bags for their fundraiser and they were overwhelmed at our generosity!

This month our meeting is on Wednesday, August 9th, at 6:00 p.m. Please call or email your reservation to Sharon Patrei at 765-3283 or slpatrei@aol.com by Sunday, August 6th.

When you call or email your reservation to Sharon, let her know what you can bring to share so we end up with a good selection.

This month we will be able to lower our cost, so the price will be only $10.00.

Hope to see many of you there,

Donna Zumbo

Several months ago we started a renovation of our second floor conference room. The room had not been renovated in over two decades. A renovation committee met and discussed several visions for the room that is used regularly for a variety of reasons including board and committee meetings.

After many months the renovation is complete and the room includes new walls, new lighting, new ceiling tiles, new furniture, wall and floor coverings. New to the room was the addition of audio video capabilities including video conferencing.

Our Presidents Room

The room is available to be used, free of charge, by all members. To reserve the room contact the membership office.

Join The Circle of Friends!

In August of 2016, the Foundation initiated a campaign, the Circle of Friends, whereby members could memorialize or honor a family member, friend, or special occasion by sponsoring a plaque to be placed in the Pavilion.

A commemorative "wall" with individual nameplates, ranging in price from $25 to $100 will be displayed prominently in the Pavilion. In addition, limited areas for special plaque placement are still available and include;

Window plaques - $250 (6 available)

Door Plaques - $300 (sold out)

Room Plaques - $500 (1 available)

Your fully tax-deductible donation to the "Circle of Friends" will allow the Italian American Community Center Foundation to continue to keep the Pavilion in good condition for years to come. This campaign will be closing at its one-year anniversary date and soon we will be printing the large plaque. Do not miss the opportunity to be a charter member of the Circle of Friends. Please consider making a contribution to the "Circle of Friends" campaign to honor your loved ones and to ensure that the Foundation continues its mission to preserve and promote Italian culture. The Foundation appreciates your support in this common endeavor. Call the office today to reserve your spot at 518-456-4222.

CONDOLENCES

Our condolences are sent to the Annello family on the passing of former president and lifelong member, Joseph Annello.

It is with sadness that I report the passing of another and oldest lifelong member, Josephine A. Sano. Condolences to the entire Sano family.

May these good members rest in peace.

Skip the processed nuggets or fast food and make these for the kids instead! They are super healthy and delicious! The applesauce adds a sweet flavor that the kids will love, plus they are getting their fruit, so it's a win-win!

Anytime I make breaded chicken I always set up an assembly line of my ingredients and work in a line.

HERE'S WHAT THE ASSEMBLY LINE FOR THESE NUGGETS INCLUDE:

- Cut skinless and boneless chicken breast into small nuggets.
- Put the plate of chicken first in line. In a bowl, whisk together one egg, 3 tablespoons of applesauce, a pinch of sea salt and nutmeg.
- Next in line are Panko bread crumbs. I like using these for the kids' nuggets because they are crispier than regular bread crumbs, have less sodium and no trans fat! Pour a generous amount of the Panko crumbs onto a plate and season with sea salt, black pepper, and a pinch of garlic powder.

Applesauce Chicken Nuggets

{Usually when I make breaded chicken, I first coat them with flour before dipping into the egg because it helps everything stick together. I'm skipping that step for these nuggets because the applesauce does a good job at keeping the coating together.}

Now it's time to work your line! Dip each piece of chicken first into your egg/applesauce mixture and then cover them with the Panko. Place each piece on a baking sheet sprayed with non stick spray. Bake in a preheated oven of 400 degrees for 20 minutes, flipping them over once after 10 mins.

These are great to make in bulk and freeze for future use. Just take them out of the freezer and throw them in the oven until warm. Super convenient!

I served these with a side of steamed mixed veggies with a little olive oil, salt, and pepper.
