PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

It is hard to believe that this month fall will begin and we will see another summer come to a close. This fall we have many regular, as well as special events, taking place. Please check our Social Calendar for the complete list of events.

Some of the special events will be our last two Pool Barbecues for the year. One on Labor Day and another one on September 18, the final pool day of 2016. On Saturday, September 10 we will play host to the Italian Chicks Comedy Tour. This show promises to be hilarious just like last season's Blood Type Ragu show. Please join us for a great show filled with plenty of laughs.

Our Women's League will be hosting a Giffy's BBQ on September 16th. Please see their ad in this issue and come out and support this fundraiser which allows our Women's League to continue to do the numerous charitable acts in the community.

Our weekly mixed bocce league will begin play on Tuesday evenings. This will run for seven weeks and is open to all members to walk in or sign up for all seven weeks. Our bowling leagues will also start later in the month on a new night moving from Monday to Friday nights.

Looking ahead to October, we will have our annual Halloween Party and of course our biggest gala of the year our Columbus Day Gala. Please join us on October 15 as we honor two very special men, Father Peter Young who will receive the Italian Spirit Award and Anthony Sabatino who is our 2016 Italian American of the Year.

I encourage all of our members to please support as many of these events that you can. If you have ideas for future events please forward those to our office as well. We are always looking to do new events and welcome new volunteers to make them successful.

In closing, I would ask everyone to generously respond to the Foundation's Circle of Friends Campaign. This project presents the unique opportunity to memorialize or honor a family member, friend, business or special occasion by sponsoring a plaque to be placed in the Pavilion. Your fully tax deductible donation will allow the Foundation to properly maintain the pavilion for years to come. Thank you.

Cigars & Cognac

CLUB NEWS & EVENTS

By: FRANK ZEOLI

On Thursday, August 18th the Italian American Community Center Foundation hosted its second annual "Cigars & Cognac" a starlight evening filled with food, cigars and cognac in our Roman Garden.

The evening included a six course tasting menu that included items such as Shrimp, Scallops, Calamari, Jumbo Crab, Poached Seabass, Steamed Littleneck Clams, Braised Pork Belly and Veal Tenderloin. Chef

Bob Ryan put together a menu that excited everyone's pallet. In addition to the tremendous food and open bar, attendees enjoyed a cognac tasting compliments of Hennessy.

This sold out event was a complete success and would not have been possible without our sponsors. A special thank you to Matt Cansolo from Hennessy, John & Bobby Mallozzi from the Mallozzi Group, The Galesi Group and Rivers Casino & Resort.

Proceeds from the event went to benefit the Schenectady Ambassadors.

ferragosto 2016

By Frank Zeoli

Buono Ferragosto!

Each year the Italian American Community Center hosts its annual Ferragosto celebration to celebrate the time honored holiday in Italy which pays homage to two things; the end of the harvest and the Assumption of the Virgin Mary. This holiday is celebrated in Italy each year on August 15th.

At the IACC we too celebrate the holiday however we add something to the celebration. We celebrate our members. We take the opportunity to thank our members by putting on a free event filled with food, music, dancing and of course our signature bonfire. This year's event was attended by over 120 members and guests and even though it was hot the pavilion was filled with the sounds of music, conversation and laughter. We dined on suckling pig, eggplant, sausage and peppers, pasta, potatoes, salad, antipasti, burgers, dogs and of course Italian pastries.

The event would not be possible without countless dedicated member volunteers who planned the event, cooked and served the food, set up and cleaned up after the event. We thank them for their hard work and dedication. We would also like to recognize the generosity of the Mallozzi Family who donated the eggplant and the pastries.

Women's League

Hi Ladies,

I just can't believe that the summer is just about over, but boy, it was a hot one! We had our August meeting in the pavilion and it was hot and humid in there. We had a wonderful demonstration with our friend, New York State Trooper Kevin Houlihan and his K-9, Mike. Trooper Houlihan gave us great insight into the training and his life with his K-9 Mike. He also showed us some of the commands for Mike and how he is well trained. Everyone there seemed to really like this demonstration!

The Women's League is sponsoring a "Giffy's Bar-B-Que" on Friday, September 16th from 4-6pm. Please pre-order your dinner by either calling the office or in person on Friday's in the Pavilion. Chicken dinner is only $12 and even includes a drink and dessert. See the ad in this issue for complete details. Please support this fundraiser for the Women's League as we need to replenish our funds so that we can continue to provide a "free" Christmas party for children under 12 years of age.

At the September meeting, we will be bringing back an oldie but goodie – "steal-a-gift." Please bring a wrapped gift valued at $10 for the steal. We will, once again, be meeting in the Pavilion and will be having salad, pizza and wings for dinner; ice cream and cookies for dessert. By doing this, we can keep the price down for another month, so the cost will be only $10.00!

Please call you reservations in to Joan Wallis at 389-6090 or email her at jwallis@nycap.rr.com by Sunday, September 11th. Cancellations by Monday, September 12th. Please remember our cancellation policy remains in effect. See you all on Wednesday, September 14th at 6:30 p.m.

Finding Our Immigrant Ancestry

.....THE DNA.....

TESTING COMMUNITY

The more people who participate in genealogical DNA testing, the more potential relationships can be found. The fact that there are several venues may work at cross purposes to that goal, because you may have your DNA tested by one, while a long-lost cousin may have hers tested at another. There may be valid reasons for the choice of provider. In my case, one venue initially failed to extract enough ‘genetic material’ from a sample, while another had no problem doing so. One venue may offer comparison of health and medical-oriented genome characteristics, another might not. FTdna offers the option to join ‘Surname Projects’, in which others researching similar surnames can share information and ‘wish lists’; others don’t. AncestryDNA doesn’t offer chromosome-by-chromosome ‘mapping’ graphics, others do.

GEDmatch has more-detailed graphics (chromosome mapping) of DNA segment matches than does 23andMe. Like 23andMe, it allows you to set the ‘significant’ length of segments to be considered (7 centiMorgans or more is generally considered as significant), but through color-coding, it also shows shorter segments that are shared. GEDmatch allows ‘one-to-one’ and ‘one-to-many’ comparisons. The former are similar to comparisons on 23andMe, but with more detail in the graphs. The ‘one-to-many’ comparisons list all users who have a match of at least 7 cM, and include the length and number of matching segments, an e-mail address, the percentage of matching DNA, and the estimated number of generations to a common ancestor.

Interestingly, some ‘relatives’ whose DNA I compared to mine on both 23andMe and GEDmatch show minor differences in results: a matching segment being 23 cM in one and 24 cM in the other; or a segment match in three chromosomes rather than in just two. Since the ‘raw data’ in both cases is identical, this seems to reflect differences in the software algorithms used by each venue. So some of the error in the analyses is not just ‘lab error’ in extracting genetic material from my saliva, but ‘computer error’ in the sense that two programs analyzed the same data and produced slightly different results.

An aspect of DNA testing that I haven’t addressed is the use of a subscriber-provided ‘family tree’. In one way or another, most venues allow participants to enter their own family trees into the system: 23andMe has a routine wherein you start with your own name and add ancestors on-line, until the tree is as complete as you want it; GEDmatch allows uploading of a family tree data file created by an off-line program; AncestryDNA links to Ancestry.com trees entered in either fashion.

I had hesitated to upload my tree to a DNA testing site, for fear of ‘circular logic’ that would use my own research to ‘prove’ a DNA relationship. I have found, though, that having DNA results ‘attached’ to a family tree helps ‘DNA relatives’ to determine which ones, of possibly hundreds, of others they should attempt to contact to expand their knowledge of family.

IMPORTANT INFORMATION TO CONSIDER

By: CAIN SCALZO
I.A.C.C. PRESIDENT

I work for the New York State Office for the Aging and I want to share some valuable information with our members. If you are recovering from a disability, or need continuous support, I urge you to contact your County Office for the Aging.

The New York State Office for the Aging's (NYSOFA's) home and community-based programs provide older persons access to a well-planned, coordinated package of in-home and other supportive services designed to support and supplement informal care. The NYSOFA's overall goal is to improve access to, and availability of appropriate and cost-effective non-medical support services for older individuals to maximize their ability to age in their community and avoid higher levels of care and publicly financed care. NYSOFA achieves this through our network of 59 local Offices for the Aging.

There is a local office for the aging in every county in New York State (New York City has one office that covers all 5 boroughs). The dedicated people who work at your local office for the aging have the training, experience and local knowledge to help you access a variety of services and benefits, or can direct you to the appropriate agency or organization for help.

They can help you understand the myriad of community-based support services that can help you, or a family member maintain their independence. A local office for the aging can assist you in applying for and receiving benefits such as in-home supports as well as support to family, friends, and neighbors who may be providing assistance to older adults.

These services are free and are never based on a person's finances.

Other services are also available, such as heating assistance and help purchasing food, assisting you in understanding your health insurance (including Medicare and Medicaid) and gaining access to legal services and supports for planning in advance (health care proxy, wills, estate planning). They can link you to congregate and home-delivered meals, nutrition counseling, employment and volunteer opportunities, senior centers, transportation, and much more.

These services are free to all individuals 60 years old and above. They can be accessed by calling your local County Office for the Aging (see listing at the bottom of the page) or you can contact the State NY Connects program.

If you dial 800-342-9871, you will be connected to a live and local agent who can walk you through all the programs that may need.

Dr. Pepper BBQ Pulled Chicken

September is all about back to school, fall, and football! All of those things combined put my crock pot in a great deal of use. The weather will soon start to cool down and the days will become busier with the kids having homework and after school activities. Nothing is better than coming home to a meal that's ready to eat and your entire home smelling amazing!

One of my favorite fall slow cooker meals is this Dr. Pepper BBQ Pulled Chicken. All you need is chicken breast, a can of Dr. Pepper, and a bottle of Sweet Baby Ray's BBQ sauce. That's it! The best part is that you can just throw it all together in a slow cooker and forget about it!

Put 2-3 lbs of boneless skinless chicken breast in a slow cooker. Pour 12 oz of Dr. Pepper soda and half of a bottle of Sweet Baby Ray's BBQ sauce over the chicken. Slow cook on high for 4 hours or low for 8 hours.

When it's done cooking, shred the chicken apart with two forks right in the slow cooker. Mix well and add more BBQ sauce if desired.

On a soft roll, top the Dr. Pepper BBQ Pulled Chicken with coleslaw and french fried onions. So good!

Buon appetito!

ABOUT THE I.A.C.C. FOUNDATION

WHAT IS THE I.A.C.C. FOUNDATION?

The I.A.C.C. Foundation is a 501c3, nonprofit organization that works closely with the Italian American Community Center (I.A.C.C.). We focus on advancing, celebrating and preserving the Italian culture and heritage while helping families rediscover the great strength to be found in these traditions.

WHAT DOES THE FOUNDATION DO?

The Foundation's fundraising efforts have aided us in sponsoring numerous events and programs, such as Italian language classes, Venetian Carnevale, The Saint Patrick's and Saint Joseph's Mass, Ferragosto, and other traditional Italian celebrations and festivities. Through our many annual cultural programs and events, we are connecting a new generation of Italian Americans with traditions and an ethnicity which has been all but lost in today's world.

With your ongoing support, The Foundation can continue to do this good work for generations to come.
